A simple window system, designed to display the 3D world in a most eye-friendly way. It is meant to provide the most efficient way to find what we are looking for in the model, which may contain thousands of objects. Some key features: mouse-driven rotation, switching between models by folders or tags, switching between views by tabs, properties and item views. Views can be enabled or disabled right in the interface. The viewer can be set to autosave, which means every change to the display is saved to a separate file. ### What's New In?

The small App called “MyCadbox” helps you to share your 3D models with your colleagues. In addition it allows you to preview and edit your models in.stl format (as meshes). You can also place marks in your 3D model in order to label your sections and/or recognize parts in your design. Is MyCadbox just a 3D viewer? No. It supports both the.3DS and.OBJ format, which are used by many CAD-software packages, such as Autodesk Inventor and SolidWorks. You can open and edit.3DS and.OBJ models without any additional software. The only 3D-viewer which supports.3DS and.OBJ files, as well as both “Edit Mesh” and “Section View” is MyCadbox. As a very simple approach, the app is using raycasting to locate the objects of a model. There are still many open issues and enhancements planned: – Model sharing. – A broad webviewer for already displayed 3D model, in order to show the designed parts on an external screen. – Addition of a “freeze” option of the 3D-viewer, so that you can freeze the view of your 3D model in order to place marks and add marks. – Addition of a “section view” of the current model. – Integration of a webviewer in MyCadbox. MyCadbox is developed in free time by Ivo Slemchert, since 2002. MyCadbox is available on Google Play and it has a rating of 3.6. “When you’re in the middle of designing something, it’s so easy to get absorbed by it, that it gets hard to see the practical aspects of it. The goal of MyCadbox is to help you see those practical aspects, so you can make sure it is as effective as possible.” – Ivo Slemchert, Founder MyCadbox Key Features All features within MyCadbox can be accessed via the dashboard. In this dashboard, all models which were created by your colleagues using MyCadbox or viewed with MyCadbox can be found, as well as the recently used models.
