KEYMACRO Description: Keyboard Macro Creator 2.0 KEYMACRO Editor is a macro keyboard program that allows you to define macros for Windows keyboards. If you are running Windows XP, Windows 7 or Windows 8, this tool can be a must-have application. Why do we need macros in Windows? Macros are used when you want to repeat a single, simple task on the keyboard, instead of hunting for the right key every time. A typical example is copy/pasting. You press the button Copy, it is copied. Then you press the button Paste, and your previous input is pasted. In this way, you save time. It is also used to speed up typing - instead of typing the same command over and over again, you can use a single button on your keyboard, such as Ctrl+C, and when you want to make a change, you press the button Ctrl+V. In this software, you can create your own macros for Windows. You can even customize your keyboard shortcuts to run your own actions. On the other hand, you can edit any existing macros you have created in the past. You can make it even easier to use your new macros by arranging a series of keyboard shortcuts. You can edit your macro settings, and you can launch your macros or system tools at keystroke. Keyboard Macro Creator 2.0 KEYMACRO Editor is equipped with a powerful set of features that can be exploited to create macros of unlimited complexity. You can design macros that:

- Combines multiple keys or keys, and then define actions
- Sets the order of keys and actions
- Combines the keys and actions in unlimited ways
- Subclasses key combinations
- Enables macros for files, programs, documents and websites
- Activates other macros or system tools
- Runs in the background
- Suppresses any keys while the macros are running
- Overrides the "Windows is typing"
- Opens the "Windows is typing" window
- Resets the "Windows is typing" window

Version: 1.3.1Ha, I love this story, and really don't know if I need any more AWD CDJ/DCDJ/DMP goodies for work. Next year I'll get a bunch of Bel Canto ATC CDJ's, or maybe even a Micca to replace the current Teac CDJ I'm running. Also a set of DMP-J23's would be nice! Ha, I love this story, and really don't know if I need any more AWD CDJ/DCDJ/DMP goodies for work. Next year I'll get a bunch of Bel Canto ATC CDJ's, or maybe even a Micca to replace the current Teac CDJ I'm running. Also a set of DMP-J23's would be nice! Ouch! I just bought the DMP-1 from Japan for $85 including shipping. It arrived only 4 days after I ordered. I have been eyeing that one as well. (Ebay by the way, except for the DMP-1 that I got) I think you have a good price there. Ha, I love this story, and really don't know if I need any more AWD CDJ/DCDJ/DMP goodies for work. Next year I'll get a bunch of Bel Canto ATC CDJ's, or maybe even a Micca to replace the current Teac CDJ I'm running. Also a set of DMP-J23's would be nice! Wow, that's a good price. I need to check out Bel-Canto, I don't remember them. I like your micca idea, I don't remember seeing a micca so close to me! I've had mine for almost a year and I just went out and bought a new DMP-1, waiting for the local guy to get it for me. So far it's been worth it. I'm not sure about adding some sony gear. I've been looking at the DMP-1, but I guess it's too early to buy. But the price of the CDJ's are dropping so I may be able to grab a few. you're my hero! I'm waiting for my DMP-1 to arrive from Japan, so we'll be on the same wavelength. It's a good thing we live in the same state. I haven't decided if I'm going to buy the Bel-C
